

Anybody Out There

Young Mister

[Guitar Intro]

Isn't it always like this
God cursed my heavy hands
Holding you down with one end
Holding you back with the other end

Here comes the sound of silence
Signaling the curtain call
Believe me now is the moment
To fill the holes in the wall

Slow down and steady the movement
Stay back it can't get through
Fast track the rash decisions
I'm leaving it up to you
But isn't there something that we can both do

[chorus]

Is there anybody out there brave enough?
And is there anybody out there looking for the same kind of love?
And is there anybody out there who knows what I mean?
Is there anybody out there for me?

We twist we turn to the room
I'll never understand
What makes the chemicals balance
What makes a good man bend

It's alright it's human nature
The struggle to heed the signs
Still there is this burning question
I can see it in your eyes
That we're finally thinking the same thing at the same time

[chorus x2]

Is there anybody out there brave enough
And is there anybody out there looking for the same kind of love

And is there anybody out there who knows what I mean
Is there anybody out there for me?

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>