

All the Trees of the Field Will Clap Their Hands

Sufjan Stevens

If I am alive this time next year
Will I have arrived in time to share?
Mine is about as good this far I'm still applied to what you are
And I am joining all my thoughts to you
And I'm preparing every part for you I heard from the trees a great parade
And I heard from the hills a band was made
Will I be invited to the sound?
Will I be a part of what you've made? And I am throwing all my thoughts away
And I'm destroying every bet I've made
And I am joining all my thoughts to you
And I'm preparing every part for you
