

Calling Me

Alva Leigh

When the rest of the world is asleep
Do you remember that night when you and me
Pulled down the steeple of ash
The rain was coming down, I was filthy and black?
Sometimes I feel that my time
On earth is sorta defined
And my life, oh, it's calling me
And my life, oh, it's calling me And I wonder what else it could be
There are times when I see and don't see
Sometimes I feel that I'm changed
By those women on the hill in the rain
In this vision of earthly decay I see that time will bear us all away
But I'm sad I won't be here to see it fade And my life, oh, it's calling me
And my life, oh, it's calling me
And my life, oh, it's calling me
