Let It Go

Saga

You travel the distance arising in the dark
You're on the run, there's no where to hide
The total resistance will guide you with a spark
You're coming undone with wounds open wideLet it go, you keep walking on the line
Let it go, take the time to realizeYou never surrender, avoid the regrets
Now you're going down, you're losing controlEvery now and then, looking back again
At the point of your destruction
You psychoanalyze in your pool of lies
Drowning critical illusion
All that you are is a ripple on the ocean
That's lost in a tideLet it go, you keep walking on the line
Let it go, take the time to realize
Let it go
You travel the distance arising in the dark
You're on the run, there's no where to hide
The total resistance will guide you with a spark
You're coming undone with wounds open wideLet it go, you keep waling on the line
Let it go, take the time to realize
