Let Me Know

Leo Sayer

are you ever gonna change your mindwill there ever be another timeyou gotta let me know I was hoping you would understandlove was never meant to be so blindyou gotta let me know well I never had to wonder whyI've felt this way now for such a long timeand it's taken everything I havejust to tell you how it is -- that I feelwon't you let me know we're no strangers to this world it's trueeverytime you cry it makes me feel so blueoh won't you let me through take another time another placetake this heart of mine and dry your faceoh won't you let me know
