

Let Me Know

Leo Sayer

are you ever gonna change your mind will there ever be another time you gotta let me know I was hoping you would understand love was never meant to be so blind

well I never had to wonder why I've felt this way now for such a long time and it's taken everything I have just to tell you how it is -- that I feel won't you let me know we're no strangers to this world it's true every time you cry it makes me feel so blue oh won't you let me through take another time
another place
take this heart of mine and dry your face
oh won't you let me know
