

In Better Hands

Cindy Bullens

I had a dream that I was fallin'
You came to rescue me
You must have heard me callin'
Through my fitful sleep

You know I wish I could be grateful
Instead of full of fear
The kind of love that you gave me
I can't replace with tears

And though i'll never feel that love again
Never again
Well, I can take some kind of comfort in Knowing you're in better hands - in better hands
in better hands - in better hands

I had a dream about a fire
Burnin' out of control
There was no way for me to stop it
'Till it burned through my soul

There was a hundred people watchin'
As the night raged on
And everyone of us stood helpless
Through that bitter dawn

But oh, the sky is in your shoes tonight
You can finally fly
All I can do is trust that you're all right
And I left you
In better hands - In better hands
In better hands - In better hands

And though i'll never feel that love again
Never again
Well, I can take some kind of comfort in Knowing yo're
In better hands - In better hands
In better hands - In better hands
