Cold Hands

Shag Rock

You say complication
I say fascination cause
It was all for us, still tastes like coconut, now

And you say you've sobered up here
I say I'm still drunk off my own tears
Cause something tells me this is the last I'll hear of you

Why can't you see through the cellophane
Indulge my heart and take away the pain
Catch the salt and throw away the vinegar
See you in 12 months if you come back here

You say you've run out of patience
I say I'm still waiting for the cadence cause
You cracked me open like a coconut, girl
You started to twiddle your thumbs and I sung words I wouldn't want sung to me
Cause this ship has sailed why can't I bear to tell the tale

Why can't you see through the cellophane
Indulge my heart and take away the pain
Catch the salt and throw away the vinegar
See you in 12 months if you come back here
(If you come back here)
Why can't you see through the cellophane
Indulge my heart and take away the pain
Catch the salt and throw away the vinegar
See you in 12 months if you come back here
Oh no, if you come back here
Mmm, if you come back here

Lyrics Submitted by Ella

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/