

Safe

Britt Nicole

You keep trying to get inside my head
While I keep trying to lose the words you said
Can't you see I'm hanging by a thread
To my life, what I know, yeah, I'm losing control and Oh no, my walls are gonna break
So close, it's more than I can take
I'm so tired of turning and running away
When love just isn't safe You're not safe I'm strong enough I've always told myself
I never want or need somebody else
But I've already fallen from that hill
So I'm dropping my guard
Here's your chance at my heart and Oh no, my walls are gonna break
So close, it's more than I can take
I'm so tired of turning and running away
When love just isn't Everything you want, but it's everything you need
It's not always happy endings, but it's all the in-betweens
It's taken so long, so long to finally see
That Your love is worth the best Oh no, my walls are gonna break Oh no, my walls are gonna break
So close, it's more than I can take
I'm so tired of turning and running away
When love just isn't safe Oh no, my walls are gonna break
So close, it's more than I can take
I'm so tired of turning and running away
When love just isn't safe You're not safe, and that's okay
