Flowers

Cibo Matto

I want certain words more than a thousand flowers
I want certain words more than a thousand flowersMemory rubs in my heart like sand on my feet
My heart is frozen tonite like blue coral in the seaYou are my twilight though not always right
You are so kind like the tide by my side
Because of time we lost our pride for loveI want certain words more than a thousand flowers
I want certain words more than a thousand flowersI feel I'm alone again in the heat wave
I wish we could meet again
You are already miles awayYou are my twilight though not always right
You are so kind like the tide by my side
Because of time we lost our pride for loveI want certain words more than a thousand flowers
I want certain words more than a thousand flowersYou are my twilight though not always right
You are so kind like the tide by my side
Because of time we lost our pride for loveI want certain words more than a thousand flowers
I want certain words more than a thousand flowers
I want certain words more than a thousand flowers
I want certain
