

What You Say

Ryan Stevenson

Ooh, ooh

How many times will I fall?

How many times will I hit this same wall?

It feels like I'm stuck here, same song on repeat

If I'm honest, I wonder if there's any hope for me

But I hear Your voice cut through the noise like a calm in the middle of a storm

I say it's over, but You say it's beginning

And I say I'm guilty, but You say forgiven

And I may be broken, but Your words bring healing

So no matter what I'm feeling, this time I'm believing what You say

What You say

You call me Your son, when I feel like I don't belong

You say that I've got a special place in Your heart

You tell me I'm loved, more than I'll ever know

And even when I'm failing, Your grace only grows

I say it's over, but You say it's beginning

And I say I'm guilty, but You say forgiven

And I may be broken, but Your words bring healing

So no matter what I'm feeling, this time I'm believing what You say

What You say

No more listenin' to all of the lies, no

'Cause the truth is, I'm blameless in Your eyes, in Your eyes

But I hear Your voice cut through the noise like a calm in the middle of the storm, oh

I say it's over, but You say it's beginning

And I say I'm guilty, but You say forgiven

And I may be broken, but Your words bring healing

So no matter what I'm feeling, this time I'm believing what You say (I'm believing, yes I'm believing)

What You say (oh, I'm believing, yes I'm believing)

What You say (oh, I'm believing, yes I'm believing)

What You say (oh, I'm believing, yes I'm believing)

Lord, what You say (I'm believing what You say)
