Fall Apart

Eight

Why can't we come closer while we fall apart
These words we trip over before we even start
Drop our defences, before it goes too long
The absence of conflict dosen't mean that/the peace will comeYou can't have peace on earth until you have it here inside
Everyone of us againWhy can't we (just) talk about this, instead we all pretend
We know we can't give what we don't already haveTake your time, hurry up, (when) we all know this all should stop
It's time again . . .
