

Superwoman

Shontelle

The night was young
And your light had only begun
To shine down on me
I've been blind, now I started to see I don't have to be right
There's no power in empty passion
Lost the taste of the fire
Find the strength to be out of fashion Everybody knows me
You're the one who won't hear my story
Give it to you for free
You're the man who won't share my glory Sing it out, let it out, for the first time these words I've spoken
Mean something so I can love again
Shout it out, turn around, tell the whole world the spell is broken
Break these chains, I'm only human No superwoman, I'm only human
No superwoman, I'm only human When I show my true face
Give me faith so I'm not afraid
To take what you give when you need
I'm starting to live I don't have to be right
There's no power in empty passion
Lost the taste of the fire
Find the strength to be out of fashion Everybody knows me
You're the one who won't hear my story
Give it to you for free
You're the man who won't share my glory Sing it out, let it out, for the first time these words I've spoken
Mean something so I can love again
Shout it out, turn around, tell the whole world the spell is broken
Break these chains, I'm only human No superwoman, I'm only human
No superwoman, I'm only human And your eyes when they turn
As they stare and they burn but they don't see me
It was getting too much
Then you started to touch my humanity Sing it out, let it out, for the first time these words I've spoken
Mean something so I can love again
Shout it out, turn around, tell the whole world the spell is broken
Break these chains, I'm only human Sing it out, let it out, for the first time these words I've spoken
Mean something so I can love again
Shout it out, turn around, tell the whole world the spell is broken
Break these chains, I'm only human No superwoman, I'm only human
No superwoman, I'm only human
