

Winter Sound

Of Monsters and Men

Stop
You're cold against the skin
You take me in your arms
When walls are closing in And I run I run I run
Awakening my heart
But you overwhelm my lungs
And it's tearing me apart You and I will not be shaken
By the winter sound
But my voice is suffocating
In the winter sound Stop
I will take control
Bend the metal
Into shapes that I know And I run I run I run
Further than before
I shake away the skin
To saturate my soul You and I will not be shaken
By the winter sound
But my voice is suffocating
In the winter sound You scream, you scratch, you bite
You pray on my heart
And I know that you and I
Can never be apart
