I Should've Known

The Pierces

Maybe I should've known, my baby
To leave you alone, maybe
Maybe I should've known
I should've known
I should've known
Oh, but you couldn't stay
Now could you?
Oh, you wouldn't say
Now would you?
Oh, but I should've known
I should've known
I should've known
When the world is on your back
And life is anticipating
Well, if you think it's love you lack
Mine's here waiting
When the world is on your back
And life is anticipating
Well, if you think it's love you lack
Mine's here waiting
Oh, but I'll let you go
I should've known to let it go
And you didn't know, now did you?
That I'd fall in love with you
Oh, but now it's too late
It's useless to say
I should've known
I should've known
I should've known
I should've known
I should've known
I should've known
I should've known
I should've known
I should've known
I should've known
