

Will Of The Wind

Jamie Rivera

I've spent half my life
Looking for the reasons things must change
And half my life trying to make them stay the same
    But love would fade like summer into fall
    All that I could see was a mystery
It made no sense at allThe will of the wind, you feel it and then
    It will pass you blowing steady
    It comes and it goes and God only knows
        You must keep your sails on ready
        So when it begins, get all that you can
        You must be friend, the will of the wind
    I've spent so many hours
        Thinking 'bout the way things might have been.
    And so many hours trying to bring the good times back again
        And so it goes for lonely hearted fools
        They let their days slip away
        Until they give into
    The will of the wind, you feel it and then
        It will pass you blowing steady
    It comes and it goes and God only knows
        You must keep your sails on ready
        So when it begins, get all that you can
    You must be friend, the will of the windSo when it begins, get all that you can
        You must be friend, the will of the wind
