You Decide

Bombardiers

It's up to you, you make the call
It's always been your choice
Maybe you're right and were all wrong
Were only some voices
Cause in the end it all depends
I step aside and let you decideThere was a season in your life
When everyone was smarter
The best advice that they could give
You'll have to work much harder
Then maybe someday you'll be wise
Realize, only you decideCause everybody has to choose
Sink or swim, win or lose
No, not everybody gets it right
Fight or flight, so will you decide?So you bent the rules, denied the truth
And all the strong suggestions
You ever heard your parents say
The giant misperceptions of who you really are You come this far, who you are, you decideCause everybody has to choose
Sink or swim, win or lose
No not everybody gets it right
Fight or flight, so will you decide?Make sure, it's up to you
Don't let the moment pass you by
All eyes on you, what you gonna do
And all the swirling in your head
You got to use your heart insteadNo, not everybody gets it right
Fight or flight, so will you?You know everybody has to choose
Sink or swim, win or lose
No, not everybody gets it right
Fight or flight, so will you decide, you decide?

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/