

Skin Deep

Sea Of Treachery

This attraction only to appearance
Becoming your religion, looks are everything
The only thing that means something to you
    Satisfaction only on the surface
    Your eyes are always focused
    Go on and let it show that
    There is no exception to the rule
        So fill the empty space
        With another pretty face
        You're skin deep, skin deep
    No one will ever be perfect in your eyes
        You're skin deep, skin deep
    Only scratching the surface for your prize
        First impressions are over in an instant
You make your decision before you speak a word
    You end, you search the page already turned Every conquest filled with disappointment
        Lacking any substance
        Now you're out of words
The lines are blurred you're never gonna learn
    So fill the empty space
    With another pretty face
    You're skin deep, skin deep
    No one will ever be perfect in your eyes
        You're skin deep, skin deep
    Only scratching the surface for your prize
        You're skin deep, skin deep
    No one will ever be perfect in your eyes
        You're skin deep, skin deep
    Only scratching the surface for your prize
        Look, all your life for beauty this fine
            So rare so hard to find
        Look, all your life for beauty this fine
            Never mind what's inside
            You're skin deep, skin deep
    No one will ever be perfect in your eyes
        You're skin deep, skin deep
    Only scratching the surface for your prize

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>