Take My Life

Cindy Morgan

Who can say when life is over
The silver cord breaks and our breath returns to God
Will we walk through fields of clover
Or soar up high through valleys deep and wideI can not know all that's waiting there
But until that day this is my prayer
Ho yesTake my life
Take away all the shattered dreams in me
And give me love that will last foreverTake my life
Give me the love that makes me free
'Cause I believe that Your love can save even a wretch like meThis race is not just for the runners
Some of us walk while others barely crawl, hey
We make our way through spring and winter
Leaning on the strength that strengthens all, ohAnd when the sunlight fades to morning
You'll still be burning in my eyes
Ho yesTake my life
Take away all the shattered dreams in me
Give me love that will last foreverTake my life
Give me the love that makes me free
'Cause I believe that Your love can save even a wretch like meHo yeah
Ho yeahAnd when the sunlight fades to morning, oh
You'll still be burning in my eyes
Oh yesTake my life
Take away all the shattered dreams in me
And give me love that will last foreverTake my life
Give me the love that makes me free
'Cause I believe that Your love can save even a wretch like me
