

How Can It Be

Jeffrey Lewis

It's funny how your life can change
 Memories of love remain
 Inside your heart for all this time
 At last you find a different road
 And suddenly you're not alone
A game of love rests upon your mind
 I could feel the love like steel
 It's like a sense you have inside
 You never knew
 How can it be that you love me
All that I've seen who really want your love and all?
 How can it be that you and me
 So desperately need each other everyday?
 And what does it mean that you want me?
 Now it's for real today, yeah
 At time it's easy to forget
 All the things you once regret
 And never learn to pay the price
 Someday the rain will fall within Remember, face it don't give in
 And watch the bad times pass you by
 I could feel the love like steel
 It's like a sense you have inside
 You never knew
 How can it be that you love me
All that I've seen who really want your love and ohh?
 How can it be that you and me
 So desperately need each other everyday?
 And what does it mean that you want me?
 Now it's for real today, yeah
 I could feel the love like steel
 It's like a sense you have inside
 You never knew, oh yeah
 How can it be that you love me
All that I've seen who really want your love and ohh?
 How can it be that you and me
 So desperately need each other everyday?
 And what does it mean that you want me?
 Now it's for real today, yeah
