I Blame You

Evans Blue

I could never be the one and I can't take over
I could never see the fun in holding on
I barely ever need someone and I'm not your shoulder
I could never come undone so prove me wrong
Over and over until we fall
I can't take this
Over and over, I blame you
All of the hurt with all of your words
You chose to never be heard again
All of the hate and all I would trade
I chose to carry this weight again
How long can this go on?
How long 'til we finally see what's wrong?
Who said life is awaiting death?
Who said you can't be all alone?

Over and over until we fall
I can't take this
Over and over, I blame you
All of the hurt with all of your words
You chose to never be heard again
With all of the hate and all I would trade
I chose to carry this weight again
All of the hurt with all of your words
You chose to never be heard again
With all of the hate and all I would trade
I chose to carry this weight again
All of the hurt with all of your words
