Men Are All The Same

The Used

Always safe to know
What is good for taking blood stains from your clothes
Like I said before
When I bite your tongue out of your mouth, you'll know
Just what am I supposed to say?
And tell you why I turned out this way
Don't make me, don't make me
If you love it then let it go
And how I died you'll never know
Just don't blame me, don't hate me
You'll never make it alone
It's easier to go
You've always been on your own
It's easier to go
Nothing safe feels real, waiting here to die
Just hoping I reveal, there's something
Picking up my brains, you can tell your mom that Men are all the same, the same
Just what am I supposed to say?
And tell you why I turned out this way
Don't make me, don't make me
If you love it then let it go
And how I died, you'll never know
Just don't blame me, don't hate me
You'll never make it alone
It's easier to go
You've always been on your own
It's easier to go
You'll have to pay to watch me die
Then I'll love you more
You'll never make it alive
It's easier to go, it's easier to go
Nowhere to go, I'm not leaving, not going
I'm not kissing you goodbye
On my own I'm nothing, just bleeding
I'm not kissing you goodbye
Nowhere to go, I'm not leaving, not going
I'm not kissing you goodbye
On my own I'm nothing, just bleeding

I'm not kissing you goodbye
Nowhere to go, I'm not leaving, not going
I'm not kissing you goodbye
On my own I'm nothing, just bleeding
I'm not kissing you goodbye
