

One Lonely Light

Amos Lee

Sometimes I get the feelin' like I just ain't a damn bit of good Sometimes I get the feelin' like a better man than me never would

Just then a chord is drawn
And all the pain there is gone
There are storms and there's storms and there's storms
through the night
Oh the waves how they rage
and they crash deep inside
Oh and when the wind howls
and you feel you've lost sight You'll be guided back home
by one lonely lightLonely light
One lonely light

Sometimes I feel as if the wheels are put here just to stay in place Sometimes I feel that I could disappear into the air out of trace

Just then a chord is drawn
And all the pain there is gone
There are storms and there's stor ms and there's storms through the night
Oh the waves how they rage
and they crash deep inside
and you feel you've lost sight
You'll be guided back home
by one lonely lightLonely light
Oh I'll sing for you
What more can I do
Oh I'll sing for you
There are storms and
through the night
and they crash deep inside
and you feel you've lost sight
by one lonely lightLonely light

One lonely light
One lonely light
One lonely light
