

Lock the Door

Robin Thicke

One, two, look at you
Three, four, she locked the door
I keep knockin' and knockin' and knockin' and knockin'
(Â-knocks) She was born in Paris
At the age of 21
Love knew her
But she didn't know love
Love didn't hear her when she cried
Love didn't stand by her side
On the most important night, oh yeah And now she's flyin' high
You can't hurt her no more
And now she's locked the door
Cause you broke the key
And she got a bright spot on her face
Bow that she got that little taste
She just wants more
She just wants more
She locked the door I kept tryin' to tell you you were pushin' me too far
(She locked the door)
I kept tryin' to warn you you was slowly breakin' my heart
(She locked the door)
I kept givin' you all of it but you took way too much
(She locked the door)
And I don't know what this is, but I know this ain't love One, two, look at you
Three, four, she locked the door
I keep knocking and knocking and knocking and knocking, hey One morning the tears started rolling down her empty face
That sparkle in her eye had been abruptly replaced
When I touched her she said wait
When I kissed her she pulled away and I knew it was over
Cause she had nothing left to say And now she's flying high, you can't hurt her no more
And now she locked the door cause you broke the key
Now a world without you she calls home
She ain't leaving no ... my ...
She just wants more, she just wants more, she locked the door I kept trying to tell you you were pushing me too far (she locked the door)
I kept trying to warn you, you were slowly breaking my heart (she locked the door)
I kept giving you all of it but you took way too much (she locked it, locked it, locked it...)
And I don't know what this is, but I know this ain't love One, two, look at you

Three, four, she locked the door
I keep knocking and knocking and knocking and knocking
Baby let me in
Baby, I miss my best friend, yes I do
She locked the door, you can't hurt her no more
She locked it, locked it, locked the door I kept trying to tell you you were pushing me too far (she locked the door)
I kept trying to warn you, you were slowly breaking my heart (she locked the door)
I kept giving you all of it but you took way too much (she locked the door)
And I don't know what this is, but I know this ain't love Come on baby, let me in Don't leave me out here in the cold
Ooh, turn the porch light on
At least open the doggy door
Don't say juicy more
Baby please give me a little hole
All I need is a little hole One, two, silly fool
Three, four, she locked the door
I keep knocking and knocking and knocking and knocking
