

This Pen Bleeds Lily

Mortimer Nova

you look posessed, like a dark coal hearted girl cramps in the neck, as the snake retracts and coils fireflys swimming in your head and the splinter is... my twin is deadthe wolf descends, we're calling miracles the flock remains, and gets ripped all apart shadows stretch a haze across your eyes and rubys fall, the princess fades awaythis bed of spikes, for a self destructive gem a crystal ball, sunburst radiance glows she's purring a mouth full of bees rip your stitches out... and welcome homethe wolf descends, we're calling miracles
the flock remains, and gets ripped all apart
and rubys fall, the princess fades awaybut you can taste the sound of crisis you've remained soulbound to christ this fruit has soured in to wine you're walking on the river like a ghost living in this bubble keeps us sane keep your rudder straight tonight caught red fire in both my eyes caught red fire in both my eyesgods a mess of color and uncertainty time to accept, his flawed reasoning the wolf descends, we're calling miracles
the flock remains, and gets ripped all apart
and rubys fall, the princess fades away
