

Vacation

Katy Rose

Oh I don't need an education
Just a microphone's intoxication
I can't deal with concentration
Give me tongues and stimulation Who are you to know my story
Who are you to read my book
I don't think you know how crazy people say I am
You're running in the deep end, Katy why don't you give a damn? I've lost all sense of navigation
But got my Cali-Fornication
Don't give me words of hard degradation
I only accept infatuation I'm a fragile kind of glass
I won't wear your stupid mask
I don't think you know how crazy people say I am
You're running in the deep end Katy why don't you give a damn? I still hold hands with my creation
But cross my eyes at it's elation
And if I miss my graduation
I'll have one fucking long vacation
