

Ten Cent Pistol (Live on Jimmy Fallon)

The Black Keys

Well, he ran around
Late at night
Holding hands Making light of everything
That came before
But there she was
Behind the door She hit them with her ten cent pistol
Because they ruined her name
Well, she hit them with her ten cent pistol
And they never been the same There's nothing worse
In this world
Than payback from
A jealous girl The laws of man
They don't apply
When blood gets in
A woman's eye Well, she hit them with her ten cent pistol
Because they ruined her name
Well, she hit them with her ten cent pistol
And they never been the same, same Stars did fall
Thunder rolled
Bugs crawled back
In their holes The couple screamed
But it was far too late
A jealous heart
Did retaliate She hit them with her ten cent pistol
Because they ruined her name
Well, she hit them with her ten cent pistol
And they never been the same Oh, the same
Oh, the same
Never been the same
Same

Songwriters

Patrick Carney; Daniel Auerbach Published by

MC MOORE MC LESST PUBLISHING Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>