

I'm Ready

Geographer

An eye for an island
And a kingdom for your soul
If we truly are in love with living
Then you have got to let it go
You've been staring at the ocean
Like it's a language you could learn
But the truth is it's a cruel gift
Turn around and we'll watch it burn
Because I'm ready now
I'm ready now
Listen to reason
Not the reasons that they give
I am getting tired of guessing
I am ready to live
I know we're going nowhere
And it feels like it's all a waste
But the truth is just as useless
We will cover it in our way
Because I'm ready now
I'm ready now
Because I'm ready now
I'm ready now
