Only a Dream

Stir

Come, lay down next to me
We'll feed our desires do whatever may come
And we'll get high, watch all the colors are bleed into one
With all the sounds, the beautiful soundsIs it me or is my imagination running wild?
Some things are not what they seem, no
You know, I'd ask you to come into my world for a while
But I know it's only a dreamI was looking down into you
Alone as you slept without a care in the world
Just you and I, together forever but we lost what we found
In all the sounds, the beautiful soundsIs it me or is my imagination running wild?
Some things are not what they seem, no
You know, I'd ask you to come into my world for a while
But I know it's only a dreamWhy do you think you're over
All the people who together held your hand?
Now, I know, I'll see you forever more
As I drown in sleep and dream of you insteadIs it me or is my imagination running wild?
But some things are never, never, ever what they seem
You know, I'd ask you to come into my world for the night
But I know it's only a dream, yeahI never need to wake
Now, I never want to end this sleep
Who is watching over, who is watching over you?
Who is watching you tonight?Is it me or is my imagination running wild?
Is it me or is my imagination running wild?
Is it me or is my imagination running wild?
Is it me or is my imagination running wild?
