

And The Birds Sing

Tyrone Wells

Sunshine came out today
And it's shining all over the world
Shining all over the world Sunshine came out today
And it's shining all over the world
On every man, woman, boy and girl (Chorus) And it sure feels fine when the sunshine shines
It warms your skin and your soul within And the birds sing
Do do do do do do
Do do do do do do
Do do do do do do do The poor man and the millionaire
Both share the oak tree shade
Not stressing over money made The preacher and the atheist
Both jumping in the ocean waves
Today they both feel saved (Chorus) Say what you gonna do when the clouds come
You gonna hold your head high
Said what you gonna do when the storms come
Keep your eyes to the sky
And It'll tell you why Cause one day, the sunshine will shine again
Shine all over the world
Shine all over the world
One day, the sunshine will shine again
Shine all over the world
On every man, woman, boy and girl (Chorus) And the birds sings
