

Love School

Denise LaSalle

I don't want anybody, yes I get stormy when things bore me
I get steamed up when you ignore me
I don't need some blank sky staring back at me
I need a bad guy I want some electricity I need fire, I got sensual desire
That's what my body and my nature does require Ooh, don't you be so cold I need some body and soul
Yeah, don't you be a fool you need to go to the love school Don't need your detachment waiting for the storm to pass
Don't need re-enactment of things that have happened in the past
I don't need some joker who making fun at me
I need a lover I want some sensitivity I need fire, I got sensual desire
That's what my body and my nature does require Ooh, don't you be so cold I need some body and soul
Yeah, don't you be so cruel you need to go to the love school I need fire I got sensual desire
That's what my body and my nature does require Ooh, don't you be so cold I need some body and soul
Yeah, don't you be a fool you need to go to the love school Yeah, don't you be so cold you'll need some body and soul
Yeah, don't you be a fool you need to go to the love school Because I don't want anybody else, I don't want anybody else
Because I don't want anybody else, I don't want anybody else
I don't want anybody else, I don't want anybody else
