

The Continual Condition

Silverstein

A city drenching me in sin
Atop these buildings weâ€™re both sinking as we swim
In our continual condition

You found a way inside my head
And left me hanging by a thread
Gutted out, replaying every line you said, and thinking
"Why canâ€™t I just forget it and why canâ€™t I live without you?"
I wish I held my ground or I could just go back
And disappear from you

I let you in you stole a piece of me
And now I canâ€™t take it, I can't take it
I can't take it back from you again
You carved my body from the inside out
Never hesitated, hesitated
Left me on the boulevard here to bleed

Your eyes had pureness cutting through
They had me breaking my own rules
Assuring me itâ€™s okay
This is different, you know weâ€™re different
Iâ€™m such a mess Iâ€™ve tried and tried to unlearn your spell
Uncross the line maintain my confidence outside
But this pain it wonâ€™t escape me

I let you in you stole a piece of me
And now I canâ€™t take it, I can't take it
I can't take it back from you again
You carved my body from the inside out
Never hesitated, hesitated
(Here to bleed)

A city drenching me in sin
Below these buildings Iâ€™m still sinking as I swim
In my continual condition
Iâ€™m off the beaten path
Smashing every light I pass

Iâ€™m so far away, and the darkness makes me need you

I let you in you stole a piece of me
And now I canâ€™t take it, I can't take it
I can't take it back from you again
You carved my body from the inside out
Never hesitated, hesitated
You left me here to bleed
