Still Breathing

Sarah Kelly

Lift up your head
Eyes off the floor
'Cause your time is coming
Right after this stormDon't be afraid
Of what lies ahead
As destiny is calling you now
Where you've never beenHow deep is your soul and how strong can your heart be
It's never too late, woah, we're still breathing
No, it's never too late, woah, we're still breathing
No, it's never too lateDon't close your eyes
'Cause the best part is how
The strength of tomorrow
Meets the power of nowContentment is the art
Yes, contentment is the answer
So please to my heart
As you'll learn to loveHow deep is your soul and how strong can your heart be
It's never too late, woah, we're still breathing
No, it's never too late, woah, we're still breathing
No, it's never, never too late nowHow deep is your soul and how strong can your heart be Yeah, how deep's your soul and how strong can your heart be
No, it's never too late, woah, we're still breathing
No, it's never too late, woah, we're still breathing
No, it's never ever too late now, no, no, no
