Another Angel Down

Avantasia

I am the master of the game that made a fool of you

I'm watching from the highest tower

You've got the aura to enchant them - and a symphony and I've got the powerYou better taste - they call it life: my special area

I'm breeding winners over there

Ain't it a sin to turn your back

On what you're given

It's time to take your shareGod left me for dead - I've been turning my head

Away from the living - the time has come

To gamble for gain - To tear down the gate

And see what's inside--[Chorus]--

We rock the ball

Been smashed to the ground

Arose from devotion to take a look and see what is inside.

Sight of the crown: Another angel downWe rock the ball

I'm facing my pain

A rage and a symphony driven by the wounds I cannot hide

Rise above the crowd: Another angel down

--[Chorus]--We see a black hole will be left up in the starry sky

We gotta mourn another angel

If I am just a light descending to caducity

It's still so far awayThere's no tomorrow

I dont remember yesterday

I'm just living for tonight

And all we learn I'm not gonna waste no more

I won't spare what's devine They left you for dead

Turning your head

Away from the living

From flesh and blood

You've got the draw, and desire to claw

For fortune and fame[Chorus]2xNote: Other lyrics for this song that I have found have minor differences compared to mine but if you listen for yourself and compare

I think you'll find that mine are correct.
