

Homecoming

RollerBlue

Coming out of the state we're in
We know it's time to go
Time once more to shed your skin
Just go with the flow
Seasons change and this must pass
Through these highs and lows
Pretty soon you'll be homeward bound
You'll always have a home I keep dealing with all of these people
Just like in the movies
It's funny how they talk in cliches
Like a sitcom replayed Getting out of the danger zone
And ghosts from the past
The signs were there all along
You're moving too fast
Taking time to see what's real
In this world alone
Finding now it's a whole new place
But you know it's your home I keep dealing with all of these people
Just like in the movies
It's funny how they talk in cliches
Like a sitcom replayed

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>