

You Will Become

Glen Hansard

In time this won't even matter
This chapter will be long on the grass
And we'll talk about everything til it's easier
Your beauty is nothing compared to what
You will become
You will become
You will become in time become
And we talked about talk of a gold ring
When you brought me one step closer to the heart of things
And we talked about everything til we laughed about it

Your honesty is nothing compared to what
You will become
You will become
You will become in time become
You will become
You will become
You will become in time
You will become in time
You will become in time
You will become in time become
