

I Need You

Julie Miller

I need something like morphine only better
I need something like a kiss that lasts forever
I need something like money that will not burn
I need something and I need more than I can earn I need something what can I do
I need something, I need you I need something like a cure for my soul
I need something like amnesia for things I know
I need something like a mother 'cause I'm just a child
I need something like an asylum 'cause I go wild I need something, I need you I need something like dynamite for the mess I'm in
I need something like a tattoo underneath my skin
I need somebody more than a lover in my bed
I need somebody here with me in my head I need something bad and I need it now
I got something wrong with me
You better fix it 'cause I don't know how I need you
