

King Of The Threshold

Soilwork

Choking on nothing
Hands turning cold
The deeper the mind goes
The deeper the hole I'm reaching a point where
No one else goes
My fate seems to be split in half
Can't control it at all Words turn to ashes
Comfort won't help
Pointless to reach out
I'm losing myself All I know is I wish this could end
Get rid of this feeling and stop to pretend Let me try to understand as
I've failed to be someone I'm not
It's so real, I've been fooled once again
I've been forced to feel It's like I'm not present
It's like I'm not here
A voice calls with vengeance
I am lost with the fear Searching for meaning, searching within
The lust that was broken has vanished again
Feels like a set up with no one to trust
The pictures I'm seeing won't leave till they're loved So let me try to understand as
I've failed to be someone I'm not
It's so real, I've been fooled once again
I've been forced to feel And now I wonder what's become of me
Is it the truth that was found?
Whatever it is, I won't respect the sound
Of giving things up Choking on nothing
Hands turning cold
The deeper the mind goes
The deeper the hole I'm reaching a point where
No one else goes
My fate seems to be split in half
Can't control it at all Let me try to understand as
I've failed to be someone I'm not
It's so real, I've been fooled once again
I've been forced to feel So let me
So let me
So let me
So let me
Fuck [Incomprehensible]
