Who You Are

Lunatica

Frozen and broken
Don't know where you're going
Losing your identity
You're so caught up in hiding
But everybody seesYou're never gonna feel
You're never gonna heal
You're never gonna know
What's fake or real'Til you know who you are
You're lying to your face
And running in a race
You're never gonna win
'Til you find your place
And you know who you areYou're crawling and falling
But no one hears you calling
When you're in a world of glass
'Til your bubble bursts
And the true you's first
You're always coming lastYou're never gonna feel
You're never gonna heal
You're never gonna know
What's fake or real'Til you know who you are
You're lying to your face
And running in a race
You're never gonna win
'Til you find your place
And you know who you areYou take yourself apart
To medicate the pain
It shouldn't be this hard
To believe in you again
