Alone

Lucie Silvas

Don't feel useless, but don't ask
If I'm hiding or I'm holding something back
I have nothing that isn't yours
But there's a place I need to go behind closed doorsI don't be afraid
I don't be ashamed
If you let me go you know I will be back againAnd I know from the outside looking in
You can't find me here
You don't know where to begin
I can't say anything you need to know
You're the ocean, I'm an island
We're together but I'm still aloneKeep on sailing for the shore
When you get here you won't find what you were looking for You're still reaching so I've been gone
So distant that I can't be touched by anyoneJust give me space
Some time away
It's a place only for me but I'll be back againI don't need you to save meI know from the outside looking in
You can't find me here
You don't know where to begin
If I can't say anything you need to know
You're the ocean, I'm an island
We're together but I'm still alone
