

Time Machine

The Mud Howlers

Have you ever felt that your love is lost roaming in the hills between the red dirt rocks blowing like seafood, whispering the valleys well don't worry darling cause I've discovered a time machine, think your destination And in the silence of the night we'll travel back in time At the speed of light where memories lie and find peace above in a cosmic love We will die beneath the ocean's sky blue waves and search inside the abyss of the dark deep caves don't you feel lost it's all inside us believe in yourself and you'll see through the haze open your mind
And in the silence of the night we'll travel back in time
