

Cliff

LÃƒYpsley

Everything

Take me to the cliffs, there is a boy, heart is for sale, and he is shaking
I walk close to the edge with this boy without a name, I try to save him
Take me to the cliffs, there is a boy, heart is for sale, and he is shaking
I walk close to the edge with this boy without a name, I try to save him
I walk close to the edge with this boy without a name, I try to save him
I walk close to the edge with this boy without a name, I try to save him

Takes me to the water, it's so clear now that he wants her, I walk away
The air is getting colder, I feel shadows leave my shoulder, he has nothing to say
Sickness that's among us, moving back into a lawless state of mind
Sinking into sand, he's reaching out for someone's hand, you know I tried

Separate, separate, separate, separate, separate

Everything is

Separate, separate, separate, separate

Take me to the cliffs, there is a boy, heart is for sale, and he is shaking
I walk close to the edge with this boy without a name, I try to save him
Take me to the cliffs, there is a boy, heart is for sale, and he is shaking
I walk close to the edge with this boy without a name, I try to save him
I walk close to the edge with this boy without a name, I try to save him
I walk close to the edge with this boy without a name, I try to save him

Takes me to the water, it's so clear now that he wants it so I walk away
The air is getting colder, I feel shadows leave my shoulder, he has nothing to say

Everything is raised up to be [?], to be [?], to be [?]

Everything is

Everything is raised up to be [?], to be [?], to be [?]

Everything is raised up to be [?], to be [?], to be [?]

Take me

Take me

Everything is raised up to be
