

Little Girl Lost

Heavy Young Heathens

Lay down your head try to close your eyes to get some sleep
The best part of life is every day when you get to dream
Listen when I say that there is no way to change this side of me
I did not know that these feelings would not show
Yet here we are, moving faster than the stars
If they should take you, I hope you will see
You know you will always be an angel to me
If I never show, only you will know what my love means
If the day should come the trouble I've spun ever comes back to me, dry your tired eyes
Every star burns brighter in the sea
What did I know? I thought you'd never leave me
But here we are now, fighting to believe
We could run from these feelings, and I am sure you will see
You know you will always be an angel to me

Lyrics Submitted by AJ

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>