

There You Are

Millie Jackson

Shucks, I thought this party was really gonna be hitting on something.
Ain't nothing 'round here but a bunch of women, nobody to dance with.

Every man that looks like anything already taken.
Sho' can't trust nobody to tell you where to go these days.

Uh oh.

Mmmmmmm. Lord have mercy. There you are looking like a king but everything.
There you are.

If I spoke to you, would you smile and say hello
Or would you formally announce that you have somewhere else to go.
Oh, oh, oh, but there you are holding all my desires.
I'm getting butterflies, 'cause there you are. Yeah. Don't move. Come here, anybody.

I must be introduced if I did it myself.
The man just might think that I'm forward and loose.
Oh, oh, oh, but there you are.

There you are, baby. I'm looking at you.
Hey, whoo! Good god almighty, baby.
Uh, huh, sho' nuff. Hey Helen, the fella standing around here on the corner, do you know his name?

Oh, you do, Jimmy? Would you introduce me to him?
See, that's why I don't like to go nowhere with you.
What kind of friend are you?

That's alright. Wait 'til the next time you want somebody to hang out with you, you gonna hang out here by yourself, 'cause I'm gonna be with Jimmy.
Ah, I'll do it myself never mind, thank you.
Ah, Jimmy, my name is Millie.

I saw you standing over here by yourself like this.
I thought if I could come over and have a few words with you. Yeah, Millie.
