Broken Dream

Tragedian

At the end again
Another broken dream
That seemed it was destined to be
Feeling lost and brokenI am trapped under black skies
Without any hope
I can never believe again,again,again
I can never believe againAlone on the streets,alone in the night
Hiding myself,from the light
Still im alive,with hopes to revive
Even though it feels,im damned for lifeFeeling alone again
As the days go by
Memories running free
Only thoughts of yesterdayWill continue haunting my mind
The past is calling me
There must be a way out,way out,way out
There must be a way outAlone on the streets,alone in the night
Hiding myself,from the light
Still im alive,with hopes to revive
Even though it feels,im damned for life
