

This Wicked Tongue

PJ Harvey

This wicked tongue says, God is a million miles away
This wicked tongue says, he can't see my day to day
This wicked tongue says, go on, taste everything
And this wicked tongue says, you know you're not really living
And it stares into the sun and it flies from star to star
Cursing everyone in my ringing ears
And the noise is as much as I can bear
And the noise is as much as I can bear
And the noise is as much as I can bear
And the noise is as much as I can bear
So I asked her where's the heart?
In the rubbish heap of man
And I asked her where's the soul?
And the silence rang and rang and rang and rang and rang
So I stare into the sun and I fly from star to star
Cursing everyone in my ringing ears
And the noise is as much as I can bear
And the noise is as much as I can bear
And the noise is as much as I can bear
And the noise is as much as I can bear
I give up, he said, I give up you win
Creation baby has failed again
I give up, he said, I give up you win
Creation baby has failed again
Creation baby has failed again
Creation baby has failed again
Creation baby has failed again
Creation baby has failed again

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>