Restless

NEEDTOBREATHE

Just before you called
I thought we were doing fine
But I was wrong
Yeah, your voice came down the line
Forced me to the thought of life
If you were goneWe're just tired of talking to the busy sounds
The hardest heart still breaks when it goes without We're all the ghosts of who we used to be
And we might know, if we could seeDon't look now 'cause I can't escape
I get so restless
We won't know until it's too late
But I'll have years to think of
The way I'd do the things I did
Just to chase the pain away
We're here now and I can change
But I'm still restlessPush the urge away
To wake up feeling just the same as yesterday
Time, it heals the pain
But painful is the angry heart when time remainsWe're just tired of walking through the faceless crowd
We keep our lonely eyes locked on the ground
And if my legs could run me into you
Then we might know, we might knowDon't look now 'cause I can't escape
I get so restless
We won't know until it's too late
But I'll have years to think of
The way I'd do the things I did
Just to chase the pain away
We're here now and I can change
But I'm still restlessDon't look now 'cause I can't escape
I get so restless
We won't know until it's too late
But I'll have years to think of
The way I'd do the things I did
Just to chase the pain away
We're here now and I can change
But I'm still restlessDon't look now 'cause I can't escape
I get so restless
We won't know until it's too late
But I'll have years to think of

The way I'd do the things I did
Just to chase the pain away
We're here now and I can change
But I'm still restless
