Digital Hearts

Howling Bells

This is some kind of life
You're living with the devil on strife
This is some pretty, some dirty gameYou're the ultimate lie
You'd rather sell your soul than compromise
Well, I'm listening, there's nothing onIt's a shameless game
You're crawling through the hall of fame
I'm listening, you're falling
It's a long, long way downRadio wars, change the station
My digital heart is suddenly aching
I'll never hear my favorite song again
Radio wars, we're fighting hard
There's a battle in here but it's not about art
Radio wars, how you broke our heartIt's a battle of sound
So tell me what's the frequency now
'Cause I'm listening, you're falling
It's a long, long way downRadio wars, change the station
My digital heart is suddenly breaking
I'll never hear my favorite song again
Radio wars, we're fighting hard
There's a battle in here but it's not about art
Radio wars, how you broke our heartYou killed him, killed my best radio [Incomprehensible]
You broke him, broken hearts
You killed him, radio wars, alrightRadio wars, change the station
My digital heart is suddenly aching
I'll never hear my favorite song again
Radio wars, we're fighting hard
There's a battle in here but it's not about art
Radio wars, how you broke our heart

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/