

I Guess It Doesn't Matter Anymore

Blackmore's Night

Standin' in the rain
The cold and angry rain
In a long white dress
A girl without a name
She stood beneath the light
Glowin' like a candle bright
I guess, it doesn't matter anymore
No I guess, it doesn't matter anymore
I pulled along the side
And offered her a ride
Like the rolling mist
She floated inside
As we pulled away
She had nothin' to say
So I guess, it doesn't matter anymore
Though I guess, it doesn't matter anymore
I believe something's can't be explained
They are hidden in the mist and in the silver rain
The road was long
It ran on
When I heard her singing
Her silent song
I knew the melody
From my memory
But I guess, it doesn't matter anymore
Said, 'I guess, it doesn't matter anymore?
Yeah, I guess, it doesn't matter anymore
Finally she spoke
Come pull off the road
Saying
She was headin' home
I turned and she was gone
I was all alone
But I guess, it doesn't matter anymore
Said, 'I guess, it doesn't matter anymore?
I believe something's can't be explained
They are hidden in the mist and in the silver rain
As I walked away

No reason to stay
She had faded back
Into the grey
A whisper in the trees
You could hear it in the breeze
Say I guess, it doesn't matter anymore
Said, ?I guess, it doesn't matter anymore?
No I guess, it doesn't matter anymore
I guess, it doesn't matter anymore
I guess, it doesn't matter anymore
Say I guess, it doesn't matter anymore
No I guess, it doesn't matter anymore
No I guess, it doesn't matter anymore
