

You Broke Like Glass

Eighteen Visions

Can I get away, get away from you
'Cause your broken edge is what told the truth
Standing in the corner, you start facing the wall alone
Shaking, you crawl away
But by now, you've been so consumed You gave it up for a dirty dime a dozen
Now you're layin' in the corner so lonely
Locked up, locked down, so down and out I'm watchin' you die slowly
Standing in the corner, you start facing the wall alone
Shaking, you crawl away
But by now, you've been so consumed Can I get away, get away from you
'Cause your broken edge is what's killing you
And I choke at the sight of you, and I choke
Yeah, you're turning blue Do you feel fine now?
Can I get away, get away from you
'Cause your broken edge is what's killing you
Do you feel fine now? And I choke at the sight of you, and I choke
Yeah, you're turning blue
